DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-23, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipate by U. S. Patent No. 6,919,158 (Kawamura et al).

Kawamura, in col 5, lines 15-67, in col 6, lines 1-12, in col 7, lines 1-28, in col 17, lines 65-67, in col 18, lines 1-27, and lines 31-60, discloses a method of forming a pattern by exposing a hydrophilic compound formed on a support to radiation so as to form a hydrophilic/hydrophobic pattern that includes regions formed on the support with graft polymers, and regions with no graft polymers; applying a layer of material on the support with the hydrophilic/hydrophobic regions. Kawamura, in col 23, lines 61-67, in col 24, lines 1-35, in col 25, lines 56-67, in col 26, lines 1-10, discloses that a polymerization initiator containing composition is applied on the support to initiate polymerization on the support surface, at active sites, after which a monomer containing functional group (graft polymer, of positive or negative charge) is made to contact the surface of the support (support having polymerization capability) in order to surface graft the polymer on the support to form corresponding hydrophilic/hydrophobic pattern (depending on the polarity of the graft polymer) (claims 1-2, 4, 8, 11, 14-15, 18, 21).

Kawamura, in col 18, lines 31-65, discloses that the substance added to the support is a colorant, and or a dye and can be conductive (charge-containing, a polar group), said substance is formed of fine particles (claims 3, 5-7, 9-10, 12, 16-17, 19-20, and 22).

Kawamura, in col 19, lines 1-51, discloses that the substance can be a conductive polymer comprised of absorbing material (claims 13, and 23).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed January 11, 2006, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The 102 rejection made in the previous office action (paper no.1003) is maintained.

A) Applicants argue that Kawamura does not disclose imagewise forming a region to initiate polymerization.

Kawamura, in col 23, lines 1-50, in col 24, lines 1-50, discloses selectively exposing the hydrophilic compound to exposure radiation as a result of which polymerization occurs, and that the active sites (and not the non-active site) undergo graft polymerization to form a pattern.

B) Applicants argue that Kawamura is not generally applicable to non-flat surfaces.

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., applicable to non-flat surfaces) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

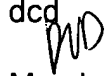

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
